Toulouse School of Management

We've been educating management students for over 60 years, and our main strengths remain the same: academic expertise, a broad educational offering, and a wide variety of agreements forged with our economic partners.

We are expressing a clear ambition: to train managers who are capable of seizing opportunities in a global business environment, and to meet the needs of companies competing on a global scale. The Toulouse School of Management offers a new pathway for developing the talents of a community of enterprising and socially responsible students.

Our story is the story of scientific and educational ambition. This ambition has been progressively realised within a French university of excellence.

The entire community is behind the project, from faculty, administrative staff, students, and graduates, to our economic and institutional partners. The project will serve a social purpose and help us establish a global presence.

The Toulouse School of Management is a grande école within a renowned university. It represents a tangible opportunity for both students and the school's partners.

training

socially responsible,
enterprising managers with a global outlook

TSM offers full-time educational programmes in the main management disciplines at both undergraduate and graduate level. The subject areas we propose are accounting and financial control, finance, human resource management, marketing, and strategy.

We prepare students for the working world through teaching, talks by top-level professionals, supervised projects, and extended internships.

TSM proposes concrete international opportunities for students. We have a large network of international partners throughout the world and several degrees are taught in English.

TSM fosters long-term relationships with its economic and institutional partners.

the needs of companies competing on a global scale

TSM's partner companies play an important role in the school's governance; they participate in the degree advisory board, and collaborate in various fairs: internships, apprenticeships, and continuing professional development courses. They also host a wide variety of professional events aimed at students.

The introduction of continuing professional development courses was the result of constructive discussions between academic experts and professional training specialists. TSM supports managers in their strategies for developing human resources, and helps employees achieve their career goals.

TSM's faculty provide support to managers in reflecting on their profession.

making

solid contributions to scientific research in management

Toulouse Capitole University enjoys a reputation as a university of excellence in the areas of law, economics, and management. TSM's research centre is a certified CNRS research unit (French National Centre for Scientific Research); the doctoral school received wide academic recognition. Its doctoral programme has been designed according to international criterion and is recognised by its students as a challenging environment, ideal for developing expertise and research. TSM is producing and sharing scientific expertise in the area of management and its faculty is increasingly working with acclaimed international research centres and publishing articles in the top scientific journals.
